

The collaboration between the interior designer Giulia Ciccarese (1988) and the architect Devis Busato (1981), graduated at the University IUAV of Venice in architectural sciences and architecture for the city, started in 2014. Creativity, research, multidisciplinary and team work are the starting point of their design and professional working in interior design, concept and architectural design. The same year they give life to the formidable project, the acronym of form, identity and potential, but also literally, "wonderful" as the creative process which characterizes their profession.
